CAFCA Overview

Celebrating 41 years as a leading voice for children in Colorado

Colorado Association of Family & Children’s Agencies (CAFCA) is the alliance of agencies committed to providing quality care, leadership, and accountability in services to children, youth and families across Colorado. Member agencies represent a broad continuum of trauma-informed services for child welfare, juvenile justice, homeless youth, education, behavioral and mental health, residential care, foster care, placement stability and related services for children, youth and families who have experienced trauma, instability, risk and adversity. CAFCA agencies offer best practices and trauma-informed services that provide safety, stability and healing leading to better life-long outcomes.

CAFCA is a non-profit membership association founded in 1982. CAFCA is an active member of Child Welfare League of America (CWLA) and National Association of State Associations for Children (NOSAC). CAFCA is represented by Cavan Consulting, LLC for lobbying and government affairs.

Benefits of CAFCA Membership include:

Admissions Contact: Lisa Kreutzer-Lay
720-975-8911 | Lisa.Kreutzer-Lay@CornerstonePrograms.com

Eligible Populations: Families with children 3-17

Program Overview: Cornerstone Programs has offered services for at-risk youth since 1998. We have expanded to add our Community Counseling Services program, offering prevention services for children, youth and families through Intensive In-Home Treatment. Each family is paired with a treatment team, consisting of a mental health therapist and a family behavior coach. This is a unique opportunity for families to be served in their community with a supportive and integrated team approach. Our treatment teams serve families with children and youth ages 2-18 who are struggling with serious emotional challenges. They develop treatment plans, in conjunction with the family and other professionals, that are developmentally appropriate and individualized for the needs of the family. The team works within the community, including consultation with the child or youth's school, when appropriate.

The goal of the treatment team is to assist the family with stabilization, regulation, parenting skills, conflict resolution and more; in order to help families develop tools to become successful, thereby preventing out-of-home placement.

Eligible Populations: Community Family Resource Team: children at risk of out-of-home placement in Adams and Jefferson Counties; Kinship Programs: families providing kinship care in Adams and Denver Counties; SafeCare: families with children 0-5 in Adams and Jefferson Counties

Program Overview: Family Tree works alongside people affected by child abuse, domestic violence and homelessness throughout their journey to safety and economic independence, providing emergency residential services, case management and advocacy, therapeutic services, outreach support, housing search and placement, education and employment support, among many other services.

The Family Tree Community Family Resource Team (CRFT) provides in-home therapy for at-risk youth in order to prevent youth from out-of-home placement. The program also provides intensive individual and family therapy with case management services to support families with youth who are transitioning back into the home, after the youth has been in out-of-home placement.

Family Tree SafeCare® Colorado is a flexible, free in-home visiting program for families with at least one child in the home, five years of age or younger. The program offers three topics to choose from and each topic can last six to eight visits. Families can choose to participate in one or all of the topics. Family Tree SafeCare® works with families located within Adams and Jefferson counties. Parents and caregivers work side-by-side in the home with a Parent Support Provider to build upon the skills they already have. SafeCare® Colorado provides parents and caregivers with free items such as electrical outlet covers, door latches and a health manual developed by pediatricians.

Treatment Model: Family Tree's approach and treatment model varies, depending on the program and the clients' goals. Across all services, we use a trauma informed, inclusive, multi-generational and client-centered approach.

Eligible Populations: GRS provides a full continuum of care for youth and families where any number of issues are prominent, including: family issues, abuse and neglect, aggressive and assaultive behavior, AWOL, acute psychiatric disturbance, poor social skills, oppositional or defiant behavior, negative peer group affiliations, anti-social behaviors, and problematic treatment and placement history. The GRS program specializes in working with youth who have complex clinical issues.

Program Overview:

Strength-based programming

GRS believes that the most effective youth workers are strength-based, relationship-based, meet basic needs, and inspire optimism in clients. Our strength-based approach focuses on identification, creation, and reinforcement of a youth's individual, family, and community strengths and resources as we focus on what is RIGHT with youth, not just about what is wrong with them. Pre-intake interviews includes discussions of strengths and from the start of placement, multiple assessments are completed with youth and families to continue to identify strengths. Our strength-based approach is used in all aspects of the programming – from treatment planning for individuals and families to applying an intervention process that was designed to guide team members as they address problematic behaviors with youth in day-to-day life.

The Three Pillars of Trauma-Informed Care

GRS bases our trauma-responsive programming on the Three Pillars of Trauma-Informed Care as we work to develop health and resilience in youth and their families. Relationships are the agents of change. The more healthy relationships a youth has, the more likely he is to heal from past trauma and thrive. Gateway Residential Services embraces the belief that in order to promote change, a relationship-driven program that effectively addresses the components of safety, connection, and coping is imperative to the successful transition of the client. We prioritize establishing a safe physical and emotional environment where safety measures are in place and provider responses are consistent, predictable, and respectful; creating an environment of safe, stable, and authentic relationships with caring adults and peers to support healing and healthy development; and supporting the youth in developing pro-social behavior (social skills, emotional regulation, communication, conflict resolution, and problem solving) by recognizing strengths and successes and acknowledging them in daily communication.

Team Decision Making

Gateway Residential Services program utilizes the Multidisciplinary Team (MDT) as the foundation for decision making for every youth placed. MDT meetings are conducted every month for every youth. We have an exceptional attendance and participation rate. It has been designed in a very structured way that allows for the youth to present and be the initial facilitator of each meeting. In addition, treatment plan revision, program participation, and therapeutic updates will be discussed at that time. Decisions made for the youth's overall treatment process are made through the MDT process and each youth, professional, and family member must be prepared with requests for changes in overall goals or special requests at the time of the MDT. If changes or special requests are required during the month and cannot wait for the MDT meeting, then group emails are utilized. In the case that the parents do not have an email then the case manager is responsible for involving them in the process via telephone or written communication at their visitation time.

Education Services: GRS partners with Delta County Joint School District 50J to provide educational opportunities for all youth served. On-site education is provided through Grand Mesa Choice Academy, which offers online classes and affective education on a daily basis. Youth who are credit-deficient will be able to work on credit recovery to get back on track toward graduation as they complete the self-paced classes. As youth progress in treatment they may be eligible to attend public school as the next step in preparing for their transition.

Treatment Model: The Clinical Department provides individual, group and family services designed and tailored around the individual needs of the client. The needs of the youth, as determined by the MDT, identify the frequency of individual and family therapy(s). The "prescription" of services is determined upon placement and adjusted as necessitated by the youth and the transition/discharge plan. We approach treatment in client-centered, strength-based programming, focusing on trauma responsive care and building protective factors and resilience. Each client's treatment is designed to identify and address risk factors of abusive behavior and protective strengths on which to build upon. Multiple staff members have been trained and certified in Trauma Informed Care, Trauma-Focused Cognitive Behavioral Therapy, Play Therapy, and EMDR. All staff members are trained in CPI, which provides a multitude of tools and skills to therapeutically address youth struggles and offer daily opportunities for growth for the youth served.

Gateway's belief system is based off of and incorporates many beliefs and theoretical perspectives. The most significant perspectives and/or curriculums used are the Reclaiming Model, Systems Theory, Trauma Informed Care, Trauma-Focused Cognitive Behavioral Therapy, Pathways for youth and family, Growing Beyond curriculum, Cognitive Behavioral Therapy for youth offenders, and Positive Behavioral Support System, which are all Evidence Based Practices. Our goal is to individualize each youth's treatment plan to encompass the services that will best meet the youth's need at the time of placement, with the goal being the most efficient transition to a lower level of care. The treatment team starts discussing the transition plan from the start of placement to prepare for that move as soon as the client is ready for a lower level of care or to transition home.

Individual therapy is conducted on a weekly basis (minimum) and family therapy is typically every other week (minimum). Psychotherapy group sessions are conducted by licensed providers four to six times a week, non-licensed professional staff four times per week, and direct care staff 2-4 times per week. Groups in the milieu focus on developing coping tools, self-regulation skills, pro-social skills, and independent life skills. All youth have the opportunity to practice and refine what they are learning in groups through the milieu.

Eligible Populations: no disqualifying criteria

Program Overview: All Justice Works Signature Programs are a community resource, serving proactively to build upon families' and youth strengths to overcome challenges.

Education Services: None

Treatment Model: STOPP® (Short-term Therapeutic Outreach to Prevent Placement): A high impact crisis and stabilization program proven to keep children safe and at home. Contact is made within 3 hours of a new referral accepted and a comprehensive service plan that targets child safety, reduces out-of-home placements, and improves family functioning is developed, implemented and monitored.

JustCare®: Stabilizes and preserves families/caregivers; reduces the length of stay in residential, foster and kin placements and eases and sustains the transition back to the home and community. Used to stabilize placements to avoid disruptions as well.

VIP® (Violation Initiative Program): Designed as a positive intervention for youth involved in the juvenile justice and/or child welfare systems who may be chronically in violation of requirements and at moderate to high risk for placement or detention. VIP® is a community-based, family-centered model that requires equal measures of support and supervision.

JustCare and VIP used as a prevention intervention to decrease the demand on the educational, child protection and juvenile justice systems -- staff can go into the classroom, the foster home, the family home to work within the environment to increase response to intervention, decrease behavioral disruption, stabilize and coach. Additional work will be done with the family and other key stakeholders to reach sustainable levels of balance and regulation.

VISIT COACHING: Supportive approach to assist parents while visiting with their children who are in out-of-home care using "coaching", a vital and engaging intervention uniquely designed to teach parents how to attune to their own needs so they can then better identify and respond to those of their children.

Program Overview: This therapeutic program, offering the highest level of individualized care, is designed to assist youth ages 11-21 to resolve social, emotional, and behavioral difficulties so they can transition to less restrictive residential settings. It provides 24-hour residential services to youth ages 11-18, with intellectual and developmental disabilities. The Calabrese Youth Center has the capacity for 12 beds.

Education Services: This is an RCCF. May of the youth at CYC are also enrolled at the Laradon School.

Treatment Model: All staff receive training on trauma-informed care, apply behavior analysis, and therapeutic interventions to ensure a safe space for our vulnerable population and to promote a culture of safety, empowerment, and healing. All staff are trained with the skills needed to prevent and, when necessary, manage behavioral incidents through Safety Care, QBS.

Program Overview: At Mount Saint Vincent our team of experienced and dedicated caregivers focus on early therapeutic interventions across a continuum of care. We provide evaluation and assessment to place children and families within the most effective treatment plan, utilizing evidence-based therapies.

- Early Learning Center, 3 – 5 years: Our Early Learning Center (ELC) is a child-centered community preschool program that respects each child's individual needs and actively promotes success. Our ELC provides a warm, homelike environment that is rich in meaningful and unique opportunities. It encourages exploration, creativity, and growth in all aspects of child development. The program has earned five out of five stars with Colorado Shines, the quality rating agency for programs and practices.
- Outpatient Therapy, 2 – 18 years: Our Outpatient Therapy program provides individual, family and group therapies to children and their families. Our therapists are highly trained in a variety of modalities including: play therapy, trauma therapy, cognitive behavioral therapy (CBT) and Parent-Child Interaction Therapy (PCIT). Therapies are provided in office or through telehealth when appropriate.
- In Home Therapy, 2 – 12 years: Our In-Home Therapy program provides intensive family-based, trauma-informed therapeutic services to children and families experiencing behavioral, emotional and mental health needs. Supporting families living within a 25-mile drive from our campus, this program focuses on the family unit. It determines the necessary environmental changes for the health and happiness of both children and adults. In-home caregivers provide therapy and coaching in a real-life environment so they can support real-life, long-lasting change.
- Day Treatment & Education, 5 – 13 years: The Day Treatment program service children who have struggled in a traditional school setting. The therapeutic milieu of the Sister Daniel Stefani School moves children toward emotional health so they can successfully reintegrate into their school settings. Children receive multiple therapeutic services to meet their individualized needs and identified goals. Outpatient Therapy or In-Home Therapy further support children and families.
- Foster Care, newborn – 18 years: Our Foster Care program trains, certifies and offers individualized support for families providing temporary 24-hour care of children who cannot remain in their homes of origin due to abuse, neglect or other safety concerns.

Education Services: Early Learning Center provides early learning services for children 3 to 5 years old; The Sister Daniel Stefani School provides education services grades K – 8th

Level of Supervision: All therapeutic services are provided by master's level clinicians. Clinicians receive a minimum of weekly individual and group supervision to ensure the care is being delivered according to best practice standards. In the Early Learning Center program Mount Saint Vincent maintains the required 1:10 staff to child ratio, but prefers a lower staff to child ratio based on staffing patterns. In the Day Treatment program Mount Saint Vincent maintains the required staff to child ratio of 1:7 with a preferred staff to child ratio of 1:4. Staff maintain line-of-sight supervision of children at all times.
